

Beijing beckons

Irish companies see China as a land of opportunity, according to a business survey conducted by the National Institute for Transport & Logistics (NITL). Despite the current economic recession, over 80% of survey respondents see China as an opportunity for business as opposed to a threat, with 57% of companies surveyed, currently doing business in Asia, in some shape or form.